From Andrea Gibson in OU Research Communications:

Oct. 27 brown bag lunch focuses on biomedical funding

The Ohio University Office of the Vice President for Research will host a brown bag lunch series on how to obtain external funding for biomedical science research, including from the National Institutes of Health (NIH). Faculty, staff and students are encouraged to attend.

The first event will be held from noon to 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 27, in Room 141/145 of the Human Resources building on West Union Street. John Kopchick, Goll Ohio Eminent Scholar and Professor of molecular biology in the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Edison Biotechnology Institute, will talk about his experiences with external awards. Group discussion and networking will follow.

For more information, please contact the Office of the Vice President for Research at research@ohio.edu or 593-0370.

From Jody Grenert in the Dean's Office:

Web tip: Enter your event on OU's Outlook online calendar

Are you planning an event that you'd like publicized to the campus community? Ohio University's Outlook online news site has the perfect tool for you. Outlook has an online calendar that allows faculty and staff to submit upcoming events to (see link below).

So if you want your event publicized outside the walls of Grover Center and beyond the weekly CHHS announcements emailed by your friendly communication director, go to the Outlook calendar submissions page online at:
